The Heart of Finnish Sauna Culture

A Tradition Rooted in Everyday Life

With over 3 million saunas and just 5.5 million people, sauna is an essential part of Finnish life. Nearly 99% of Finns enjoy sauna regularly, with Saturdays being the traditional sauna day. Sauna also plays a special role during Midsummer and Christmas, when it is thoroughly cleansed and enjoyed as a ritual to mark the start of the festivities.

More Than Just Heat — A State of Mind

Sauna has long been believed to have a cleansing, even supernatural effect. In Finnish folklore, sauna spirits were honored to ensure a peaceful experience. Today, sauna is seen as a place of meditation, offering an escape from daily life while promoting relaxation and well-being.

Did you know?

Finnish sauna culture was added to the UNESCO Intangible Cultural Heritage list in 2020, recognizing its deep-rooted significance in Finnish identity.

Sauna

The True Finnish Experience

A Cultural Tradition

If you visit Finland, you are likely to end up in a sauna. There is nothing more Finnish than sauna, and many believe you cannot truly understand Finland without experiencing it. While Finns respect that foreigners may feel hesitant, an invitation to a sauna is seen as an honor and a gesture of trust.

Where Talks Flow and Decisions Happen

In the sauna, even the typically reserved Finns open up. It is a place for deep conversations, bonding, and even important decision-making. The traditional sauna routine remains unchanged: warming up, taking löyly, whisking, washing, and cooling off — often with a dip in a lake or even a roll in the snow.

MÖLKKY®

Sauna & Play?

Yes, please!

Mölkky® — The Finnish Throwing Game

Easy to learn and wildly social, Mölkky® is the perfect add-on while the sauna heats up, or for that happy cool-down moment after. A great customer gift and a fun extra for sauna & wellness venues.

What it is

A Finnish outdoor classic played with a throwing pin and 12 numbered skittles. Success is about accuracy (not strength), so everyone can join in — from families to corporate groups.

How to Play (Quick Start)

- Set up: Arrange the 12 numbered pins in a tight formation a few meters from the throwing line. Players take turns tossing the throwing pin.
- Score:
  - Knock down one pin → score the number on that pin.
  - Knock down 2+ pins → score the count of pins toppled. Stand pins back where they fell after each throw. molkky.world
- Win: First to exactly 50 points wins. Go over 50 → drop back to 25. Three consecutive misses → you're out.

MÖLKKY®

Finnish throwing game — ideal between sauna rounds or as a premium customer gift. Designed and made in Finland. Finnish rules included.
